Graduate College

All graduate degree candidates are listed under the college of their academic major.

The Academic Procession

The procession begins with the entrance of the candidates for degrees. Led by faculty marshals, the candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, both the Teaching Program and the Liberal Arts Program, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Liberal Studies, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Technology enter in groups, representing each of the undergraduate colleges. They are followed by the candidates for the highest degrees.

Students wearing a bronze medallion are those graduating summa cum laude (with highest honors), which represent the top three percent of each college by grade point average; or those graduating students receiving a Purple and Old Gold Award, given to those students who have excelled in scholarship or who have shown conspicuous achievement in particular areas.

The procession continues with representatives of the faculty.

The President's Party forms the final section of the academic procession. Headed by the commencement marshal, it includes the president; members of the Board of Regents, state of Iowa; administrative officers; the academic deans; and honored guests.

The commencement marshal carries the University Mace, designed and fashioned for the Centennial Commencement in 1976 by Randall Swanson, at that time a freshman majoring in Industrial Arts. A traditional symbol of authority, the mace is a carved wood rod capped with ends of cast bronze, with the top carrying the seal of the university. The sterling silver chain worn by the president was also created for the Centennial Commencement. It was designed and constructed by Martin Peterson, then a junior majoring in Art, and it memorializes the historical evolution of the university by carrying the seals of the Iowa State Normal School, the Iowa State Teachers College, the State College of Iowa, and the University of Northern Iowa.

The academic costumes worn trace their origin to the Middle Ages when long-sleeved hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone colleges. Over the centuries, much diversity occurred, and to bring some order, in the United States in 1894 an intercollegiate system of academic costume was agreed on, now adhered to by American institutions. According to this code, both the styling and colors of the regalia have significance.

The design of the gown indicates the degree. The bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The master's gown is much like it except for the long sleeve which hangs loose. The doctoral gown is fuller and more elaborate. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the full sleeve. The color of this velvet may be black or in the color appropriate to the degree.

Hoods, which are worn over the gowns, are similar for all degrees, although differing slightly in length. The candidates for the bachelor's degrees usually do not wear the hood. The hood has a velvet edging which indicates the area of the degree, and the inside or lining of the hood is satin in the colors of the college or university granting the degree.

A partial list of the degree colors to be found on the edge of the hood or the trimming on the doctoral gown is as follows:

|-------------------------|--|--------------------------|
| Apricot - Nursing | Drab - Business | Orange - Engineering |
| Blue, dark - Philosophy | Green - Medicine | Pink - Music |
| Blue, light - Education | Green Sage - Physical Education | Purple - Law |
| Brown - Fine Arts | Lemon - Library Science | Scarlet - Theology |
| Citron - Social Science | Maize - Agriculture | White - Arts and Letters |
| Copper - Economics | Maroon - Family and Consumer Sciences | Yellow, Golden - Science |

Lux Service Award

Since 1984

The University of Northern Iowa Lux Service Award is presented annually to three undergraduate students who best represent the ideal of service to the university community.

The honor is conferred in the spirit of keeping the light of service to others burning bright at UNI. The name of the award – Lux – is from the university's official seal that features a burning lamp of knowledge and the Latin word for light.

The award is presented by the dean of students and sponsored by the University of Northern Iowa Alumni Association.

Congratulations to the 2010 Lux Service Award Recipients:

Amy Costliow is a public relations/nonprofit and youth services administration major from Dixon, Ill. Amy has been widely involved with Student Admissions Ambassadors, American Humanics, Residence Life, the UNI Student Leadership Center, Camp Adventure, Northern Iowa Student Government, Summer Orientation Staff and Cedar Valley Volunteer Center. Amy has been instrumental in founding both the Student Leadership Center and Up "Til Dawn, a fundraising effort for St. Jude Children's Hospital. Amy received the Mayor's Award for Outstanding Emerging Leader for 2008-2009, and has been nominated for the Student Leader of the Year award through the Student Leadership Center this year. "Amy leads with enthusiasm and determination....when Amy is leading an organization that organization will reach new goals and accomplish more than it has in the past." said Julianne Gassman, executive director of American Humanics and associate director of Camp Adventure.

Ebony Jackson is a criminology major from Gary, Ind. Ebony has been actively involved in many organizations on campus, including the Black Student Union, Delta Sigma Theta, Unique Natural Individual Dancers Ensemble (UNI-DE), Ethnic Student Promoters and EXCEL. Ebony has been a writing assistant in the Academic Learning Center, president of Delta Sigma Theta, and president of the Black Student Union. She lead the efforts to host a Black Student Union Week by organizing events including a Rally Against Discrimination, the play "Love, Life, and Redemption," and the Tunnel of Oppression. Kathy Peters, academic learning support and retention coordinator, notes, "Ebony has successfully balanced her academic and extracurricular activities to also demonstrate service to the University of Northern Iowa she certainly is an individual who will represent the university well in her future."

Jessica Staudt is an elementary education major minoring in social studies teaching and ethics from Charles City, Iowa. Jessica has been highly involved in Kappa Delta Pi; Panther Push; a self-started service project, "Blankies for Babies;" Relay for Life; and Up "Til Dawn, where she has taken on the role of executive director this year. She has become a leader and role model to many students on campus as a Student Admissions Ambassador and resident assistant (RA). Jessica has taken on many leadership roles as an RA, including serving on various committees and presenting at the UNI RA conference. She has also been selected as a member of the UNI Chapter of the National Residence Hall Honorary. Sarah Montgomery, assistant professor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, said, "As a mentor and leader on campus and in the local community who has decided to dedicate her life to service as an educator, Jessica is a brilliant beacon of light who should be honored for her unselfish commitment to others."

Honorary Degree

Stephen J. Rapp

The University of Northern Iowa is pleased to confer the honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters degree to Stephen J. Rapp for his lifelong commitment to justice as Chief Prosecutor at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda and the Special Court for Sierra Leone, on behalf of survivors and victims of genocide.

Mr. Rapp is a native of Cedar Falls, Iowa, a former state legislator, and was appointed under the Bush administration to serve as U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Iowa.

In 2005, he became the Chief Prosecutor at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda to bring justice to those who perpetrated violence against the people of that country. From December 2006 until 2009 he was Chief Prosecutor at the Special Court for Sierra Leone. He led the prosecutions of former Liberian President Charles Taylor and other persons for atrocities during the civil war in Sierra Leone. Mr. Rapp is a non-partisan advocate of justice for the survivors of the Rwanda and Sierra Leone genocides, and he works to create laws and policies to prevent holocausts in the future.

President Barack Obama nominated him to be Ambassador-at-Large for War Crimes Issues for the U.S. Department of State. This required Senate approval. Iowa Republican Senator Charles Grassley said he welcomes Obama's choice of Rapp for the job. "Steve Rapp has the respect of people around the world, and has been a leader in prosecuting war crimes committed against civilian populations. He is an ideal person for the job."

According to a 2005 Des Moines Register article, Mr. Rapp said he would like to go to Cambodia to help prosecute the aging leaders of the Khmer Rouge. "If nothing else, I'll be involved in it," he said. "It's how I want to spend the rest of my life: trying to bring justice where it hasn't existed before."

Mr. Rapp received his A.B. degree with honors from Harvard University in government and international relations. He attended Columbia Law School and received his J.D. degree with honors from Drake University.
